Heather Feldman serves as the Executive Director for the Georgia Mountains Regional Commission (GMRC). Having been employed at the GMRC for 21 years, she is responsible for the day-to-day operations of the organization and management of the various programs including Economic and Community Development, Planning, GIS, Revolving Loan Funding, and Workforce Development. The mission of the Georgia Mountains Regional Commission is to serve the local governments of the Georgia Mountains Region by improving the quality of life through economic development, community planning, information technology, and workforce development to support and enhance the region's prosperity.

Prior to serving as the Executive Director, Heather was the Director of Economic Development for the Regional Commission overseeing the grant preparation and administration of state and federal loan and grant funds. She is honored to have received the GMRC's Chairman's Award in 2015, which is the highest award given.

She previously worked for the late Senator Paul D. Coverdell in Washington, DC. She has a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Political Science from Georgia Southern University. She resides in Flowery Branch, Georgia with her husband and two children.
