

Introducing: The Recovery to Work Slack Channel!

Dear Recovery to Work Partners,

As we continue to navigate the challenges of recovery and rebuilding the workforce talent in the Appalachian region, we know that collaboration and partnership are more important than ever. That's why we're excited to invite you to join our "Recovery to Work" Slack. (Not familiar with Slack? Here's a quick start guide).

This new workspace is free to join and will serve as a hub for partners involved in the recovery and rebuilding efforts. By joining the workspace, you'll have the opportunity to connect with colleagues, share ideas and resources, and work together to tackle the challenges we're facing.

The workspace channel topics currently include: employer engagement, housing, justice, partnership development, public health, sustainability, transportation, treatment, and workforce development. We believe that these channels will provide a robust and comprehensive framework for collaboration, and we're excited to see what we can achieve together.

To join the workspace, [simply click here] and follow the prompts to create an account. Once you're in, you'll be able to start exploring the channels and connecting with other partners. We hope to see you there soon!

If you have questions, please contact Brendan Buff:
bbuff@crec.net