

Hope Knight -- Work with the Business Community and Underrepresented Groups

Engage more people from different backgrounds in different regions of the state. Encourage people from different sectors to work together, public sector, private industry and academia.

Facilitate and forge relationships that might not have happened otherwise. Build relationships with local elected officials because they understand the needs of their communities and can help you advance your projects.